

Exposing darkness makes it flee

Darkness flee's when My children see it, as long as they live in a false sense of security the darkness will surround them like killer bee's just waiting for an opportunity to strike. I said they must be careful when they stand lest they fall. False security is not trusting Me.

Open eyes is what I want from them, they cannot be ignorant of the enemies ways, how can you set up your defenses if the enemy is in your camp? Purification is protection and preparation for the battle ahead. Ripping out roots is the only way to stop re-growth, root and all.

There is no fear in My love, fear no enemy but that doesn't imply people can be ignorant and arrogant, the enemy is real and closer than most think.

Jaco Kruger – 15/1/2007