

It is time

It is time for My sons and daughters to stand up and take their inheritance, then sit down and take their place with their King to truly rule and reign. For too long has the enemy of your souls held you down with fear and doubt and insignificant worries My young ones.

Believe, truly believe, stand, conquer, rule and reign. It is My victory and power you need not your own so it is okay if yours seem feeble, its meant to be, so that you will always tap into Mine. I give the victory and power, seek Me and find it.

Actually find Him, for Holy Spirit is My power. He is the personification of My power. Seek Me, find Him!
